

MARKET RELEASE

29 November 2021

Second class action claim

Sydney, Australia – Further to the announcement on 22 November 2021, Nuix Limited ('Nuix'; ASX:NXL) has become aware of a second class action claim filed against it in the Supreme Court of Victoria on 23 November 2021. While the claim has not been served on Nuix and there has not been any contact from the plaintiff or his lawyers, the second claim has been commenced by Phi Finney McDonald on behalf of Daniel Joseph Batchelor and persons who acquired interests in Nuix shares by subscription in its IPO or in the period between 4 December 2020 and 29 June 2021. The claim relates to information contained in Nuix's Prospectus and Nuix's disclosure concerning forecast FY21 revenue and alleges that Nuix contravened provisions of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (Cth). The claim covers similar subject matter to the claim filed by Shine Lawyers which was announced on 22 November 2021 and does not identify the amount of any damages sought. Mr Batchelor's claim has also been commenced against Macquarie Capital (Australia) Limited and Macquarie Group Limited as co-defendants.

Nuix disputes the allegations and will be defending the claim in the event it is served.

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Nuix.
